INTRODUCTION

During 2002, the second year of the new millennium, OTS-regulated thrifts set new records. Net income climbed to a record $11.8 billion, up 16 percent from the previous year's record of $10.2 billion. Profitability, measured by return on average assets, broke the 56-year-old record of 1.20 percent set in 1946 by peaking at 1.21 percent up from 1.07 percent a year earlier.

Earnings and profitability strengths occurred partly from a favorable interest rate environment. Over the year, the shape of the yield curve remained steep, but net interest margin declined over the year as longer-term interest rates fell, causing thrift assets to reprice or originate at lower yields. The low interest rate environment continued to fuel the mortgage-refinancing boom.

Thrift assets topped $1 trillion at the end of 2002, up from $978 billion a year ago. The last time assets surpassed $1 trillion occurred in 1990. Thrifts reported a record equity capital ratio of 9.2 percent at year-end, up from 8.1 percent in 2001. Capital measures remained well in excess of minimum requirements. Increased capital resulted from growth in retained earnings, unrealized gains on available for sale securities, and net new capital investment.

Asset quality remained strong for all loan types and the overall level of credit quality remained good. Noncurrent loans (loans over 89 days past due or in nonaccrual status) were 0.65 percent of assets at year-end, up five basis point from year-end 2001.

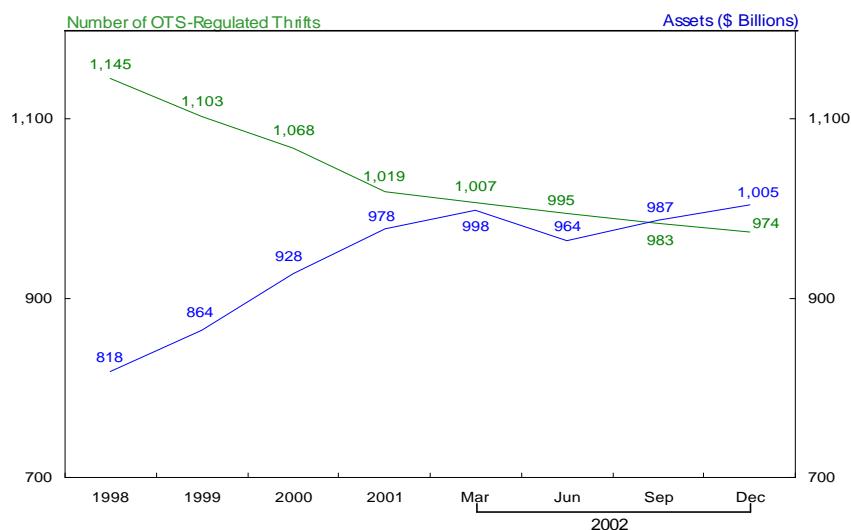

OTS regulated 974 public sector thrifts at year-end. During the year, 54 thrifts left OTS supervision and nine new thrifts added $5.8 billion to the industry's aggregate assets.

Footnotes accompanying the data and the appended Technical Notes are an integral part of the publication. OTS staff believe the data are accurate. Staff will investigate any inconsistency brought to their attention and correct the problem, if necessary, in future editions.

TECHNICAL NOTES 2002 FACT BOOK

THRIFT INDUSTRY FINANCIAL DATA COVERAGE

Data are for thrift institutions (savings and loan associations and savings banks) supervised by the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS), and its predecessor, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (FHLBB), unless otherwise indicated. The OTS was created upon enactment on August 8, 1989, of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act. At that time, the FHLBB and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC) were abolished. Thrift deposits are primarily insured by the Savings Association Insurance Fund (SAIF), formerly the FSLIC, but some thrift deposits are also insured by the Bank Insurance Fund (BIF).

The FDIC has supervisory authority over both the SAIF and the BIF. SAIF data subgroups reported include: SAIF-insured savings and loan associations, SAIF-insured savings banks, and SAIF-insured stock thrifths. Total assets and liabilities for the period 1951 -1977 are for all FSLIC-insured thrifths.

Data for OTS-regulated thrifths for the period 1978 through 2002 are for private sector institutions and exclude institutions that were in conservatorship, receivership, or were self liquidating. Data for FDIC-regulated thrift institutions exclude Resolution Trust Corporation conservatorships and receiverships. OTS and FDIC financial data are preliminary for the fourth quarter 2002.

The sources of data used in compiling this publication for the period prior to 1978 are the Federal Home Loan Bank Board / Office of Thrift Supervision Savings & Home Financing Source Book and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Statistics on Banking. The sources of data used in compiling this publication for the period 1978 through 2000 are the OTS Thrift Financial Report (TFR) system database and the FDIC Statistics on Banking.

Beginning with June 1996, the TFR was converted to a fully consolidated report, replacing the separate reporting of the thrift, its subsidiaries, and the consolidated entity. Additional reporting changes are described in the Data Definitions section of the Technical Notes.

On September 30, 1996, President Clinton signed the Economic Growth and Regulatory Paperwork Reduction Act of 1996, which included the Deposit Insurance Funds Act of 1996 (DIFA). The major element of the DIFA was to capitalize the Savings Association Insurance Fund (SAIF) through a one-time special assessment on institutions that have deposits insured by the SAIF. The special assessment was reflected as an expense in institutions' third quarter 1996 financial statements. Information presented herein show profitability data with and estimated values without the SAIF assessment expense, which amounted to an aggregate $2.1 billion net of taxes.

Individual Federal and State Charter Group table information are not adjusted for parent thrift and subsidiary thrift charter differences, where the parent thrift and subsidiary are different charter types or are located in different states.

1. (a) Data for the period 1951 -1989 are for FSLIC-insured thrift institutions.
(b) Data after August 1989 are for SAIF-insured private sector thrift institutions.
(c) Numbers may not sum due to rounding.

Table 9.1, 9.2

16. Savings and Loan Holding Company Ownership of OTS-Regulated Thrifts

A savings and loan holding company ("holding company") is a company that directly or indirectly controls a savings association ("thrift"). 12 C.F.R. 583.20 (2002). Since some thrifts are held by more than one holding company, the number of holding companies exceed the number of thrifts held.

A company that owns one thrift is a unitary holding company while a company that controls two or more thrifts is a multiple holding company. A HOLA 10(l) holding company controls a state savings bank or cooperative bank that has elected to be treated as a savings association for purposes of regulating its holding company. FRB-regulated holding companies are registered as both thrift holding companies and bank holding companies. Further information on this topic is available in the OTS Regulatory Handbook on Holding Companies dated April 16, 2002 and available on the OTS website under Supervision / Handbooks. <http://www.ots.treas.gov/pagehtml.cfm?catNumber=111&an=10>

Congress authorized FSLIC in the National Housing Act of 1934. The Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 abolished FSLIC. The FSLIC deposit insurance function was assumed by a new insurance fund, the Savings Association Insurance Fund (SAIF), administered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

Federally Chartered Savings Association:

A savings association chartered by the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) (or its predecessor agency, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board) under the provisions of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, and subject to the supervision of OTS. Mortgage Loan:

An advance of funds from a lender, called the mortgagee, to a borrower, called the mortgagor, secured by real property and evidenced by a document called a mortgage. The mortgage sets forth the conditions of the loan, the manner and duration of repayment, and reserves to the mortgagee the right to possess the pledged property if the mortgagor fails to repay any portion of principal and interest.

In a mutual holding company, depositors own the mutual holding company, which in turn holds a majority of the voting stock of its subsidiary savings association. The balance of the thrift's stock can be sold to outside investors to raise capital. Mutual holding companies were first authorized by the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 (CEBA).
