Washington, D.C. — Today, Scott M. Polakoff announced his intent to retire from the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS), effective on July 3, 2009.

After 26 years of government service, including 22 years with the FDIC and about four years with the OTS, Polakoff expressed interest in transferring his skills to the private sector.

"Scott has served the government with distinction over his career," said OTS Acting Director John E. Bowman. "We wish him the best in his next endeavor."

Polakoff joined the OTS in November 2005 and served for about two years as OTS Senior Deputy Director and Chief Operating Officer.
